

Putting in place the new additional learning needs system between September 2021 and August 2024

Easy read guide for children, parents and families

This guide was written by the Welsh Government. It is an easy read version of the guide for parents and families: implementing the additional learning needs (ALN) system between September 2021 and August 2024.

September 2022

How to use this document

This is an easy read document. But you may still need support to read it. Ask someone you know to help you.

Llywodraeth Cymru
Welsh Government

Where the document says we, this means Welsh Government. If you want more information you can contact:

Address: Additional Learning Needs Branch
Support for Learners Division
Education, Social Justice and Welsh Language Division.
Welsh Government
Cathays Park
Cardiff
CF10 3NQ

E-mail: ALNimplementation@gov.wales

Facebook: EducationWales

Twitter: @WG_Education

This document was made into easy read by Easy Read Wales using Photosymbols. To tell us what you think about this easy read version, click here.

Contents

Page

About this guide.....	4
About the ALN system.....	5
What is changing.....	7
How children will move to the ALN system.....	8
How schools and local councils will move children to the ALN system.....	11
How children and their families can ask to move to the ALN system.....	14
What to do if you don't agree with something.....	14

About this guide

This is an easy read guide for children, parents and families.

It is about how a new law is going to work in Wales for children with additional learning needs.

The law is called the Additional Learning Needs and Education Tribunal (Wales) Act 2018. It is also known as the ALN Act.

The new law will change the way children with special educational needs (SEN) are supported.

The new system will be called the additional learning needs (ALN) system.

Most children will move from the SEN system to the ALN system over three years.

This guide explains how this will happen.

About the ALN system

We want to make sure that:

- All learners are given the support they need to do well.

- Children and families are listened to.

- Children get the right support.

- Most children can use schools close to them.

- Children can get support before they start school or nursery.

- Children and families understand about the support they are being offered.

- There are ways children and families can speak up if they are not happy.

- Children get support in Welsh if they need it.

What is changing

These are the new words that will be used:

Special educational needs (SEN) will become additional learning needs (ALN).

Special educational needs co-ordinators (SENCOs) will become additional learning needs co-ordinators (ALNCOs).

Special educational provision (SEP) becomes additional learning provision (ALP).

Plans like individual education plans (IEPs), statements and learning and skills plans (LSPs) will be changed to individual development plans (IDPs).

How children will move to the ALN system

Children are moving from the SEN system to the ALN system in groups.

In January 2022, the first group of children started to move to the ALN system.

This group of children went to a local authority nursery, school or pupil referral unit (PRU). But they did not have a statement.

More children in this group will move during the school year 2022 to 2023. These are children who are in Nursery, Reception, Year 2, Year 4, Year 6, Year 8, Year 10 and Year 11.

Children in this group who did not move before will move in the school year 2023 to 2024. These are children who are in Nursery, Year 2, Year 4, Year 6, Year 8 and Year 10.

From 1 September 2022 other groups of children will start to move from the SEN system to the ALN system.

These are:

- Children with SEN who do not go to a local authority nursery, school or PRU.

- Children who have a statement of SEN.

The box below shows when children who have statements will move to the ALN system.

School year 2022 to 2023

Children who are below statutory school age, Reception, Year 6, Year 10 and Year 11.

School year 2023 to 2024

Year 2, Year 3, Year 4, Year 5, Year 6, Year 8, Year 9 and Year 10.

- Children where something is happening under the SEN system. This could be the local authority making a statement or there is an appeal to tribunal.

When children move to the ALN system the child's nursery, school, PRU or in some cases the local authority will say how and when this will happen.

If a child has support under the SEN system, this will continue until the child moves to the ALN system.

This is to make sure children get the support they need.

How nurseries, schools, PRUs and local authorities will move children to the ALN system

Moving from the SEN system to the ALN system can happen in one of three ways.

It can happen by:

- An IDP notice or a No IDP notice being given to a child and their parents.
- An ALN notice being given to a child and their parents.
- Or automatically moving – this means that a notice is not given. The move to the ALN system happens because something has changed.

IDP and No IDP notices

An IDP notice means that it has been decided that a child has ALN and an IDP will be made.

A No IDP notice means that it has been decided that a child does not have ALN. Sometimes, a child may be given a No IDP notice because their needs have changed, and they no longer need extra help to learn.

An automatic move

Where children move automatically from the SEN system to the ALN system, the child's nursery, school, PRU or local authority will let children and their families know.

ALN Notice

Sometimes a local authority can give an ALN notice.

An ALN notice allows a local authority to move a child from the SEN to the ALN system at any time.

An ALN notice is different from an IDP notice. An ALN notice does not involve making a decision about a child's ALN.

When an ALN notice has been given, a nursery, school, PRU or local authority can make a decision about if a child has ALN.

This would happen if the nursery, school, PRU or local authority thinks a child may have ALN.

How children and their families can ask to move to the ALN system

From 1 September 2022, most children up to Year 11 who get SEN support have a right to ask to be moved to the ALN system.

This can happen earlier than the nursery, school, PRU or local authority planned to move the child.

What to do if you don't agree with something

The views of children and families are very important.

If you are not happy or do not agree with a decision made you can say so.

Talking about your worries might help sort out any concerns or differences of opinion.

If your child goes to a local authority nursery, school or PRU it would be good to talk about your concerns with the ALNCo.

If your child does not go to a local authority nursery, school or PRU you can contact the local authority for help. They will have people to support families to work out something that everyone is happy with.

You can contact the Education Tribunal for Wales about some things you're not happy with.

Website:
specialeducationalneedstribunal.gov.wales

Post: Education Tribunal for Wales
Welsh Tribunals Unit
PO Box 100
Llandrindod Wells
LD1 9BW

Phone: 0300 025 9800

E-mail: educationtribunal@gov.wales
or tribunal.Enquiries@gov.wales

Here are some other organisations who can help:

- SNAP Cymru
- National Deaf Children's Society
- National Autistic Society Cymru
- Royal National Institute of Blind People \(RNIB\) Cymru
- Children's Commissioner for Wales

You can get more information from your local authority or the Welsh Government:

You can find your local authority contact information here: gov.wales/find-your-local-authority

Or go to the Welsh Government website here: gov.wales/additional-learning-needs-transformation-programme